In honor of Rabbi Raiz's class completing Shemona Esrei, Rabbi Samber spoke to the class about different Halachos on how we daven, as well as the importance of davening. One specific point was, inasmuch as we are always talking to Hashem, "our best friend", Shemona Esrei is unique, as it is a direct meeting with Hashem. Even after Rabbi Samber left, many boys continued to ask thought-out questions about what was discussed.

PRE-NURSERY      NURSERY      KINDERGARTEN

The Pre Nursery Stay & Play completed our two week study of rain and rainbows. We loved learning about the water cycle! We painted outside with water to observe evaporation in action, experimented with clouds, watched light travel through a prism and divide into the colors of the rainbow, and created beautiful rainbow patterning projects!

This week the Nursery Stay And Play read the book "The Little Engine That Could". We discussed how we always need to try and try again to believe in ourselves!! We learned about trains, made engineer caps and marched down the hall chanting "I think I can, I think I can, I think I can". We made a collaborative project where we dipped trains into paint and made tracks, used foam shapes to make a train and to top it off made a "traintastic" snack, an edible train using graham crackers, Oreos and Cheerios! Yum!!

The Kindergarten Yeladim had a super fun Shushan Purim. Not only did they have a blast at the carnival but they got the opportunity to go on a REAL dump truck and speak with and ask A LOT of questions to the firemen about their fire engine.

The Pesach learning has begun! The Kindergarteners have begun their Haggados and learning the Mah Nishtana. They are certain to be ready for the Sedar!

Kindergarten is learning subtraction. In this lesson, the children wrote math sentences on dry erase boards. After figuring out the answer, they had movements to do as many times as the number of the answer!

Connecting with the 'ue' sound that they learned this week, the kindergarteners experimented with glue! They dropped food coloring on a plateful of glue, then added a drop of dish washing soap on the colorful dots. The colors spread making beautiful designs!
